

Philosophy Society

Thursday
November 8th

12:20 – 1:20 p.m.

429 Cooper Street (may be subject to change)

Are Children's Rights
Philosophically Viable?

CHILDREN'S RIGHTS & PIZZA

PRESENTATION BY PROFESSOR JOHN WALL

Are children's rights philosophically viable? John Wall, Professor of Philosophy and Religion, will discuss the philosophical bases of human rights, why the Enlightenment explicitly excluded children under 18 from them, and how twenty-first century political theorists are rethinking human rights in child-responsive ways, including examples of such things as children's rights to vote.